

CHILD PROTECTION POLICY

1. Introduction

The safety, protection and well-being of all students are of fundamental importance to Blacktown Youth College (BYC).

Both the employee and the school have a range of different obligations relating to the safety, protection and welfare of students including:

- a) a duty of care to ensure that reasonable steps are taken to prevent harm to students;
- b) obligations under child protection legislation; and
- c) obligations under work health and safety legislation.

The purpose of this policy is to summarise the obligations imposed by child protection legislation on the school and on employees, contractors and volunteers at the school and to provide guidelines as to how the school will deal with certain matters.

Child protection is a community responsibility.

Procedures:

- All staff across all campuses will be given, whenever revisions are made, a revised copy of the school's Child Protection Policy. They will have seven days upon receipt to return their signed acknowledgement.
- All staff will participate in discussion on any revisions of the policy at a staff meeting. This will be facilitated by the Head of School (HOS) and minutes recorded of the discussion.
- Staff who are absent from the meetings will be followed up and given a copy of the minutes of the meeting by the HOS and/or Administrator.
- New staff will sign as having read and understood this policy, prior to employment.
- The HOS will remind all staff across all campuses of their legal responsibilities with regards to school's Child Protection Policy at the Staff Development Day held on the first day of term every year. Absent staff will be briefed by the Administrator upon their return to work.
- Additionally, it is mandatory for all staff to attend/complete annual Child Protection sessions which are either; presented by a qualified speaker or conducted online, generally by the NSW Association of Independent Schools. Staff in attendance must sign an evidence sheet as confirmation of having been informed of their legal responsibilities and/or printed evidence of the completion of online sessions. These evidence sheets will be filed by the Administrator in the Working With Children file kept in the office.
- The HOS and/or Administrator will follow up on staff that have not responded to the above and direct them to do so.

2. Key legislation

There are three key pieces of child protection legislation in New South Wales:

- a) the Children and Young Persons (Care and Protection) Act 1998 (NSW) (the Care and Protection Act); (Part A)
- b) the Child Protection (Working With Children) Act 2012 (NSW) (the WWC Act); and (Part C)
- c) the Ombudsman Act 1974 (NSW) (the Ombudsman Act). (Part B)

Each piece of Legislation is dealt with below:

2.1 Obligations to report

Set out below are the circumstances in which the legislation requires reporting of particular child protection issues, the school requires the employee to report any concern they may have about the safety, welfare or wellbeing of a child or young person to HOS.

If the allegation involves the HOS, the employee is required to report to the President of the Board, in writing, via the Public Officer/Administrator.

This obligation is part of BYC's overall commitment to the safety, welfare and wellbeing of children.

2.2 Other policies

Please note that there are a number of other school policies that relate to child protection which all employees need to be aware of and understand including (but not limited to):

- a) the Code of Conduct which sets out information about the standards of behaviour expected of all employees, contractors and volunteers of BYC; and
- b) the Work Health and Safety Statement which summarises the obligations imposed by work health and safety legislation on the school and workers; and
- c) the Anti-Bullying and Harassment Policy which summarises obligations in relation to unlawful discrimination, harassment and bullying.

Policy: Child Protection Policy

Revised: January 2018

PART A: The Care and Protection Act

The Care and Protection Act provides for mandatory reporting of children at risk of significant harm.

NOTE: Any concern regarding the safety, welfare or well being of a student must be reported to the HOS.

1. Who is a mandatory reporter?

Under the Care and Protection Act persons who:

- a) in the course of their employment, deliver services including health care; welfare, education, children's services and residential services, to children; or
- b) hold a management position in an organisation, the duties of which include direct responsibility for, or direct supervision of, the provision of services including health care, welfare, education, children's services and residential services, to children, are mandatory reporters.

All teachers are mandatory reporters. Other BYC employees may also be mandatory reporters. If other staff are not sure whether they are a mandatory reporter they should speak to the HOS.

2. When must a report be made Community Services?

2.1 What is the threshold?

A mandatory reporter must, where they have reasonable grounds to suspect that a child (under 16 years of age) is at risk of significant harm, report to Community Services as soon as practicable, the name, or a description, of the child and the grounds for suspecting that the child is at risk of significant harm.

In addition, while not mandatory, BYC considers that a report should also be made to Community Services where there are reasonable grounds to suspect a young person (16 or 17 years of age) is at risk of significant harm and there are current concerns about the safety, welfare and well-being of the young person.

2.2 Reasonable grounds

'Reasonable grounds' refers to the need to have an objective basis for suspecting that a child or young person may be at risk of significant harm, based on:

- a) first hand observations of the child, young person or family
- b) what the child, young person, parent/carer or another person has disclosed
- c) what can reasonably be inferred based on professional training and / or experience.

'Reasonable grounds' does not mean that the reporter is required to confirm their suspicions or have clear proof before making a report.

2.3 Significant harm

Significant harm

A child or young person is 'at risk of significant harm' if current concerns exist for the safety, welfare or well-being of the child or young person because of the presence, to a significant extent, of any one or more of the following circumstances:

- (a) the child's or young person's basic physical or psychological needs are not being met or are at risk of not being met;
- (b) the parents or other caregivers have not arranged and are unable or unwilling to arrange for the child or young person to receive necessary medical care;
- (c) in the case of a child or young person who is required to attend school in accordance with the Education Act 1990 —the parents or other caregivers have not arranged and are unable or unwilling to arrange for the child or young person to receive an education in accordance with that Act;
- (d) the child or young person has been, or is at risk of being, physically or sexually abused or ill-treated;
- (e) the child or young person is living in a household where there have been incidents of domestic violence and, as a consequence, the child or young person is at risk of serious physical or psychological harm;
- (f) a parent or other caregiver has behaved in such a way towards the child or young person that the child or young person has suffered or is at risk of suffering serious psychological harm;
- (g) the child was the subject of a pre-natal report under section 25 of the Care and Protection Act and the birth mother of the child did not engage successfully with support services to eliminate, or minimise to the lowest level reasonably practical, the risk factors that gave rise to the report.

2.4 Other relevant definitions

Policy definition of significant harm

A child or young person is at risk of significant harm if the circumstances that are causing concern for the safety, welfare or well-being of the child or young person are present to a significant extent.

What is meant by 'significant' in the phrase 'to a significant extent' is that which is sufficiently serious to warrant a response by a statutory authority irrespective of a family's consent.

What is significant is not minor or trivial, and may reasonably be expected to produce a substantial and demonstrably adverse impact on the child or young person's safety, welfare or well-being.

In the case of an unborn child, what is significant is not minor or trivial, and may reasonably be expected to produce a substantial and demonstrably adverse impact on the child after the child's birth.

The significance can result from a single act or omission or an accumulation of these.

A 'Child' is a person under the age of 16 years for the purposes of the Care and Protection Act.

Child abuse and neglect

There are different forms of child abuse. These include neglect, sexual, physical and emotional abuse.

Neglect is the continued failure by a parent or caregiver to provide a child with the basic things needed for his or her proper growth and development, such as food, clothing, shelter, medical and dental care and adequate supervision.

Physical abuse is a non-accidental injury or pattern of injuries to a child caused by a parent, caregiver or any other person. It includes but is not limited to injuries which are caused by excessive discipline, severe beatings or shakings, cigarette burns, attempted strangulation and female genital mutilation.

Injuries include bruising, lacerations or welts, burns, fractures or dislocation of joints.

Hitting a child around the head or neck and/or using a stick, belt or other object to discipline or punishing a child (in a non-trivial way) is a crime.

Serious psychological harm can occur where the behaviour of their parent or caregiver damages the confidence and self esteem of the child or young person, resulting in serious emotional deprivation or trauma.

Although it is possible for 'one-off' incidents to cause serious harm, in general it is the frequency, persistence and duration of the parental or carer behaviour that is instrumental in defining the consequences for the child.

This can include a range of behaviours such as excessive criticism, withholding affection, exposure to domestic violence, intimidation or threatening behaviour.

Sexual abuse is when someone involves a child or young person in a sexual activity by using their power over them or taking advantage of their trust. Often children are bribed or threatened physically and psychologically to make them participate in the activity. Child sexual abuse is a crime.

Child wellbeing concerns are safety, welfare or wellbeing concerns for a child or young person that do not meet the mandatory reporting threshold, risk of significant harm.

'Young person' means a person who is aged 16 years or above but who is under the age of 18 years for the purposes of the Care and Protection Act.

3 What should an employee do if they consider that a mandatory report is required?

Reporting by BYC about these matters to Community Services and, where necessary, the police, is generally undertaken by the HOS. This is in accordance with best practice principles and is the expectation of the BYC.

If an employee has a concern that a child or young person is at risk of significant harm they should contact the HOS as soon as possible to discuss whether the case reaches the threshold of 'risk of significant harm' and the steps required to report the matter.

However, if there is an immediate danger to the child or young person and the HOS or next most senior member of staff is not contactable the employee should speak to the Police (000) and/or the Child Protection Helpline (132111) directly and then advise the HOS or next most senior member of staff at the school as soon as possible.

Employees are not required to, and must not, undertake any investigation of the matter themselves.

Employees are not to inform the parents or caregivers that a report to Community Services has been made.

All employees are required to deal with the matter confidentially and only disclose it to the persons referred to above or as required to comply with mandatory reporting obligations. Failure to maintain confidentiality will not only be a breach of this policy, but could involve potential civil proceedings for defamation.

4 What should an employee do if they have a concern that is below the mandatory reporting threshold?

While the Care and Protection Act outlines a mandatory reporter's obligation to report to Community Services, any concern regarding the safety, welfare and wellbeing of a student must be reported to the HOS.

All reports regarding the safety, welfare or wellbeing of a student must be dealt with confidentially and only disclosed to the HOS and any other person the HOS nominates.

In the context of BYC, this will be the Wellbeing Coordinator at the Hebersham Campus and the Campus Coordinator at Lawson. The HOS will need to be kept informed at all times. Failure to do so will be a breach of this policy and subject to disciplinary action.

PART B: THE OMBUDSMAN ACT

1 Responsibilities

1.1 General

Part 3A of the Ombudsman Act requires the heads of certain agencies, including non government schools in New South Wales (NSW), to notify the NSW Ombudsman of all allegations of reportable conduct by an 'employee' and the outcome of the school's investigation of these allegations.

An 'employee' includes employees, contractors, volunteers, work experience participants, clergy, ministers of religion and instructors of religion who provide pastoral or liturgical services. In this part where there is a reference to an employee it includes all of these persons.

1.2 The Ombudsman

The Ombudsman:

- a) must keep under scrutiny the systems for preventing reportable conduct by employees of non-government schools and the handling of, or response to, reportable allegations (including allegations which are exempt from notification) or convictions;
- b) must receive and assess notifications from non government schools concerning reportable conduct or reportable convictions;
- c) is required to oversee or monitor the conduct of investigations by non-government schools into allegations of reportable conduct or reportable convictions;
- d) must determine whether an investigation that has been monitored has been conducted properly, and whether appropriate action has been taken as a result of the investigation;
- e) may directly investigate an allegation of reportable conduct or reportable conviction against an employee of a non-government school, or the handling of or response to such a matter (e.g. arising out of complaints by the person who is the subject of an allegation); and
- f) may undertake 'own motion' investigations of non government schools where the Ombudsman considers it appropriate to do so, including where there is evidence of systemic failure or serious conflict of interests.

1.3 Head of Agency

The Head of Agency at BYC is the HOS.

Under the Ombudsman Act the Head of Agency must:

- a) set up systems within their organisation to ensure that they are advised of any allegations of reportable conduct against employees;

- b) notify the Ombudsman as soon as possible and no later than thirty days after being made aware of an allegation;
- c) notify the Ombudsman whether or not the school plans to take disciplinary or other action in relation to an employee who is the subject of a reportable allegation or conviction, what the intended action is and the reasons for taking or not taking any such action as soon as practicable; and
- d) provide the Ombudsman with any documentary and other information as the Ombudsman may from time to time request to assist in the Ombudsman's monitoring of an investigation.

1.4 Employees' obligations to report

All employees must report any concerns they may have about any other employee engaging in reportable conduct or any allegation of 'reportable conduct' that has been made to them, to the HOS, including information about themselves. If an employee is not sure whether the conduct is reportable conduct but consider that it is inappropriate behaviour they must still report it.

An employee must also report to the HOS if they become aware that an employee has been charged with or convicted of an offence (including a finding of guilt without the court proceeding to a conviction) involving reportable conduct.

In the case of the Lawson campus, the Campus Coordinator may be the point of contact. It is the responsibility of the Campus Coordinator to inform the HOS immediately of all such allegations.

This includes allegations relating to the Campus Coordinator.

If the allegation involves the HOS, the employee is required to report to the President of the School Board, in writing through the Public Officer/Administrator.

1.5 Contact for parents/carers

The HOS is the contact point for parents/carers. If they wish to report an allegation of reportable conduct against an employee at the Hebersham campus. In the case of the Lawson campus, the Campus Coordinator may be the point of contact. It is the responsibility of the Campus Coordinator to inform the HOS immediately of all such allegations.

If the allegation involves the HOS, the employee is required to report to the President of the School Board, in writing through the Public Officer/Administrator.

2 What is reportable conduct?

2.1 Definition of reportable conduct

Reportable conduct is defined as:

- a) any sexual offence or sexual misconduct committed against, with or in the presence of a child (including a child pornography offence or an offence involving child abuse material);
- b) any assault, ill-treatment or neglect of a child; and

- c) any behaviour that causes psychological harm to a child whether or not, in any case, with the consent of the child.

Reportable conduct does not extend to:

- a) conduct that is reasonable for the purposes of the discipline, management or care of children, having regard to the age, maturity, health or other characteristics of the children and to any relevant codes of conduct or professional standards; or
- b) the use of physical force that, in all the circumstances, is trivial or negligible, but only if the matter is to be investigated and the result of the investigation recorded under workplace employment procedures; or
- c) conduct of a class or kind exempted from being reportable conduct by the Ombudsman under section 25CA.

2.2 Other relevant definitions

Set out below are definitions of the various terms referred to above in relation to reportable conduct.

Behaviour that causes psychological harm to a child is behaviour that is obviously or very clearly unreasonable and results in significant harm or trauma to a child. There needs to be a proven causal link between the inappropriate behaviour and the harm, and the harm must be more than transient.

Child is a person under the age of 18 years for the purposes of the Ombudsman Act.

Ill-treatment captures those circumstances where a person treats a child in an unreasonable and seriously inappropriate, improper, inhumane or cruel manner. The focus is on the alleged conduct rather than the actual effect of the conduct on the child.

Ill-treatment can include disciplining or correcting a child in an obviously unreasonable and seriously inappropriate manner; making excessive and/or degrading demands on a child; hostile use of force towards a child; and/or pattern of hostile or unreasonable and seriously inappropriate, degrading comments or behaviour towards a child.

Neglect includes either an action or inaction by a person who has care responsibility towards a child. The nature of the employee's responsibilities provides the context against which the conduct needs to be assessed.

1. Supervisory neglect:

- An intentional or reckless failure to adequately supervise a child that results in the death of, or significant harm to, a child, or
- An intentional or reckless failure to adequately supervise a child or a significantly careless act or failure to act, that:
  - Involves a gross breach of professional standards, and
  - Has the potential to result in the death or significant harm to a child.

2. Carer neglect:

- Grossly inadequate care that involves depriving a child of the basic necessities of life: such as the provision of food and drink, clothing, critical medical care or treatment, or shelter.

3. Failure to protect from abuse:

- An obviously or very clearly unreasonable failure to respond to information strongly indicating actual or potential serious abuse of a child.

4. Reckless act (or failure to act):

- A reckless act, or failure to act, that:
  - Involves a gross breach of professional standards, and
  - Has the potential to result in the death of, or significant harm to, a child.

Physical Assault is any act by which a person intentionally inflicts unjustified use of physical force against another. An assault can also occur if a person causes another person to reasonably apprehend that unjustified force is going to be used against them. Even if a person who inflicts physical harm or causes another person to reasonably apprehend physical harm does not actually intend to inflict the harm or cause fear, they may still have committed an assault if they acted 'recklessly'.

'Recklessness' in this context relates to circumstances when the person ought to have known that their actions would cause a person physical harm or cause them to fear injury.

Assaults can include hitting, pushing, shoving, throwing objects or making threats to physically harm a child.

Person subject to the allegation (PSOA)

Reportable conviction means a conviction (including a finding of guilt without the court proceeding to a conviction), in NSW or elsewhere, of an offence involving reportable conduct.

Sexual Misconduct has two categories which include:

- (1) crossing professional boundaries, and
- (2) sexually explicit comments and other overtly sexual behaviour.

The alleged conduct must have been committed against, with or in the presence of a child.

Crossing professional boundaries

Sexual misconduct includes behaviour that can reasonably be construed as involving an inappropriate and overly personal or intimate:

- relationship with;
- conduct towards; or
- focus on;

a child or young person, or a group of children or young persons.

Codes of conduct that outline the nature of the professional boundaries which should exist between employees and children/young people can be particularly useful. For employees who either intentionally breach such codes or have demonstrated an inability to apply them appropriately, it may be necessary to provide more detailed written advice about what constitutes appropriate behaviour, (please refer to the Code of Conduct Policy)

Sexually explicit comments and other overtly sexual behaviour

Behaviour involving sexually explicit comments and other overtly sexual behaviour which can constitute sexual misconduct. Some forms of this behaviour also involve crossing professional boundaries. This conduct may include:

- a) inappropriate conversations of a sexual nature
- b) comments that express a desire to act in a sexual manner
- c) unwarranted and inappropriate touching
- d) sexual exhibitionism
- e) personal correspondence (including electronic communications such as emails and text messages) with a child or young person in relation to the adult's sexual feelings for a child or young person
- f) exposure of children and young people to sexual behaviour of others including display of pornography
- g) watching children undress. For example, in change rooms or toilets when supervision is not required or justified.

Sexual Offences encompasses all criminal offences involving a sexual element that are 'committed against, with or in the presence of a child'.

These offences include (but are not limited to) the following:

- (a) indecent assault
- (b) sexual assault
- (c) aggravated sexual assault
- (d) sexual intercourse and attempted sexual intercourse
- (e) possession/ dissemination/ production of child pornography or child abuse material
- (f) using children to produce pornography
- (g) grooming or procuring children under the age of 16 years for unlawful sexual activity
- (h) deemed non-consensual sexual activity on the basis of special care relationships

3 What happens when an allegation of reportable conduct is made?

3.1 Initial steps

Once an allegation of reportable conduct against an employee is received, the Head of Agency is required to:

- (a) determine on face value whether it is an allegation of reportable conduct;
- (b) assess whether Community Services or the Police need to be notified (ie, if reasonable grounds to suspect that a child is at risk of significant harm or criminal offence);
- (c) notify the child's parents (unless to do so would be likely to compromise the investigation or any investigation by Community Services or the Police);
- (d) notify the Ombudsman within 30 days of receiving the allegation;
- (e) carry out a risk assessment and take action to reduce/remove risk, where appropriate; and
- (f) investigate the allegation or appoint someone to investigate the allegation.

If the employee is employed at the Lawson campus, the HOS will work with and closely mentor the Campus Coordinator to ensure the steps outlined above are followed.

3.2 Investigation principles

BYC will:

- (a) be mindful of the principles of procedural fairness;
- (b) inform the PSOA of the substance of any allegations made against them and provide them with a reasonable opportunity to respond to the allegations;
- (c) make reasonable enquiries or investigations before making a decision;
- (d) avoid conflicts of interest;
- (e) conduct the investigation without unjustifiable delay;
- (f) handle the matter as confidentially as possible; and
- (g) provide appropriate support for all parties including the child/children, witnesses and the PSOA.

3.3 Investigation steps

In an investigation the Head of Agency or appointed investigator will generally:

- (a) interview relevant witnesses and gather relevant documentation;
- (b) provide a letter of allegation to the PSOA;
- (c) interview the PSOA;

- (d) consider relevant evidence and make a preliminary finding in accordance with the NSW Ombudsman guidelines;
- (e) inform the PSOA of the preliminary finding and provide them with an opportunity to respond;
  - (f) consider any response provided by the PSOA;
  - (g) make a final finding in accordance with the NSW Ombudsman Guidelines;
  - (h) decide on, or if an investigation recommend the disciplinary action, if any, to be taken against the PSOA;
  - (i) apply the NSW Office of the Children’s Guardian (OCG) Guidelines and decide if the matter is reportable to the OCG; and
  - (j) send the final report to the Ombudsman and report to the OCG (where required) (see Part C).

A PSOA may have an appropriate support person with them during the interview process. Such a person is there for support only and as a witness to the proceedings and not as an advocate or to take an active role.

The steps followed in the investigate process will be guided by the “Recommended Protocols for Internal Investigative and Disciplinary Proceedings, 2001” (IEU/AIS) as updated from time to time (See Attachment 2.)

The steps outlined above may need to be varied on occasion to meet particular circumstances. For example it may be necessary to take different steps where the matter is also being investigated by Community Services or the NSW Police.

4 Risk management

Risk management means identifying the potential for an incident or accident to occur and taking steps to reduce the likelihood or severity of its occurrence.

The Head of Agency is responsible for risk management throughout the investigation and will assess risk at the beginning of the investigation, during and at the end of the investigation.

4.1 Initial risk assessment

One of the first steps following an allegation of reportable conduct against an employee is for the Head of Agency to conduct a risk assessment. The purpose of this initial risk assessment is to identify and minimise the risks to:

- (a) the child(ren) who are the subject of the allegation;
- (b) other children with whom the employee may have contact;
- (c) the PSOA;
- (d) the school, and
- (e) the proper investigation of the allegation.

The factors which will be considered during the risk assessment include:

- (a) the nature and seriousness of the allegations;
- (b) the vulnerability of the child(ren) the PSOA has contact with at work;
- (c) the nature of the position occupied by the PSOA;
- (d) the level of supervision of the PSOA; and
- (e) the disciplinary history or safety of the PSOA and possible risks to the investigation.

The Head of Agency will take appropriate action to minimise risks. This may include the PSOA being temporarily relieved of some duties, being required not to have contact with certain students, or being suspended from duty. When taking action to address any risks identified, the school will take into consideration both the needs of the child(ren) and the PSOA.

Please Note: A decision to take action on the basis of a risk assessment is not indicative of the findings of the matter. Until the investigation is completed and a finding is made, any action, such as an employee being suspended, is not to be considered to be an indication that the alleged conduct by the employee did occur.

4.2 Ongoing Risk Management

The Head of Agency will continually monitor risk during the investigation including in the light of any new relevant information that emerges.

4.3 Risk Management at the Conclusion of the Investigation

At the completion of the investigation, a finding will be made in relation to the allegation and a decision made by the Head of Agency regarding what action, if any, is required in relation to the PSOA, the child(ren) involved and any other parties.

5. What information will be provided to the PSOA?

The PSOA will be advised:

- (a) that an allegation has been made against them (at the appropriate time in the investigation); and
- (b) of the substance of the allegation, or of any preliminary finding and the final finding.

The PSOA does not automatically have the right to:

- (a) know or have confirmed the identity of the person who made the allegation; or
- (b) be shown the content of the Ombudsman notification form or other investigation material that reveals all information provided by other employees or witnesses.

The WWC Act enables a person who has a finding referred to the OCG under the Act to request access to the records held by the school in relation to the finding of misconduct involving children (see Part C section 3).

6. Disciplinary Action

As a result of the allegations, investigation or final findings, BYC may take disciplinary action against the PSOA (including termination of employment).

In relation to any disciplinary action the school will:

- (a) give the PSOA details of the proposed disciplinary action; and
- (b) give the PSOA a reasonable opportunity to respond before a final decision is made.

7. Confidentiality

It is important when dealing with allegations of reportable conduct that the matter be dealt with as confidentially as possible.

BYC requires that all parties maintain confidentiality during the investigation including in relation to the handling and storing of documents and records.

Records about allegations of reportable conduct against employees will be kept in locked storage and will be accessible by the Head of Agency or with the Head of Agency's express authority.

No employee may comment to the media about an allegation of reportable conduct unless expressly authorised by the HOS to do so.

If an employee becomes aware of a breach of confidentiality in relation to a reportable conduct allegation they must advise the HOS.

PART C: WWC Act

1 General

The Office of the Children's Guardian (OCG) is responsible for employment screening for child related employment. A Working With Children Check (Check) is a prerequisite for anyone in child-related work. It involves a national criminal history check and review of reported workplace misconduct findings. The result of a Check is either a clearance to work with children for five years, or a bar against working with children. Cleared applicants are subject to ongoing monitoring by the OCG, and any relevant new records which appear against a cleared applicant's name may lead to the Check being revoked.

It is the responsibility of the child-related worker to ensure that when they are eligible to apply for a Check or when their Check is up for renewal that they do so.

If there is an existing employee, employed at BYC in paid child-related work prior to the commencement of the new Working With Children system<sup>1</sup>, or a volunteer, the requirement to obtain a Check will be phased in over a five year period, according to the phase in schedule developed by the OCG (Attachment I).

2 Responsibilities

The object of the WWC Act is to protect children:

- (a) by not permitting certain persons to engage in child-related work; and
- (b) by requiring persons engaged in child-related work to have working with children check clearances.

Schools are required to:

- (a) verify online and record the status of each child-related worker's Check;
- (b) only employ<sup>2</sup> or engage child-related workers or eligible volunteers who have a valid Check; and
- (c) report findings of misconduct involving children made against child-related workers or volunteers.

Child-related workers and eligible volunteers are required to:

- (a) hold and maintain a valid Check;
- (b) not engage in child-related work at any time that they are subjected to an interim bar or a bar; and
- (c) report to the HOS if they are no longer eligible for a Check, the status of their Check changes or are notified by the OCG that they are subjected to a risk assessment.

<sup>2</sup> As of 15 June 2013, existing employees and volunteers are subjected to a phase in schedule developed by the OCG. This can be found at www.kids.gov.nsw.au (which may be updated from time to time by the OCG).

All volunteers are required to:

- (a) sign the Volunteer Statutory Declaration. Some volunteers engaged in high risk roles may be required to have a Check;
- (b) to be aware and follow the expectations of conduct expressed in the Code of Conduct Policy.

3 Relevant Definitions

3.1 Bars

Final bar

This bar is applied based on a decision made by the OCG, following a risk assessment. This person is barred against working with children.

Interim bar

An interim bar is issued to high risk individuals to prevent them from continuing to work with children while a risk assessment is conducted. An interim bar may be applied for up to 12 months. If an interim bar remains in place for six months or longer, it may be appealed against through the Administrative Decisions Tribunal.

Not everyone who is subject to a risk assessment will receive an interim bar; only those representing a serious and immediate risk to children.

Interim bars are issued only for risks considered likely to result in a final bar.

3.2 Child-related work

Child-related work includes, but not limited to work in the following sectors<sup>3</sup>:

- (a) early education and child care including education and care service, child care centres and other child care;
- (b) education schools and other educational institutions and private coaching or tuition of children;
- (c) religious services;
- (d) residential services including boarding schools, homestays more than three weeks, residential services and overnight camps; or
- (e) transport services for children including school bus services, taxi services for children with disability and supervision of school road crossings.

3.3 Child-related worker

A person who has physical contact or face to face contact with children in work outlined above in 3.2, including schools. This may include volunteer work.

A child-related worker may commence work once they have completed the Check application process. An application is completed when the online application form is

Recommended Protocols for Internal Investigative and Disciplinary Proceedings - 2001

Introduction

It is acknowledged that each case of alleged reportable conduct which requires internal investigation and possible disciplinary action will be quite different. These protocols have been compiled to advise how investigations and disciplinary proceedings may be conducted. They are guidelines only and in applying them one should always bear in mind the primary objectives of the relevant legislation. If adopted by a school this document should be provided to teachers who are the subject of an internal investigation into reportable conduct.

Outline of Obligations under the Legislation

Upon receipt of an allegation of reportable conduct against an employee, the head of agency should determine whether or not it is an allegation about reportable conduct or misconduct that may involve reportable conduct.

All allegations against employees that involve reportable conduct or misconduct that may involve reportable conduct must be reported within 30 days of receipt of the allegation to the Ombudsman. The allegations should also be reported to the Department of Community Services (DOCS) if there is a current concern for the safety, welfare and well being of the child. The head of agency will need to:

- conduct or cause to be conducted, an investigation of the allegation;
- decide as to whether on the balance of probabilities the allegation has been sustained or not sustained;
- decide on the disciplinary action, if any, to be taken against the employee.

At the conclusion of the investigation and the decision regarding disciplinary action, a complete report including the findings, disciplinary action decided upon and any other recommendations must be forwarded to the Ombudsman together with any information which the accused person requires to be included.

Completed relevant disciplinary proceedings should be reported to the Commission for Children and Young People unless the allegation was found to be false, vexatious or misconceived.

Risk Assessment

Upon the receipt of an allegation of reportable conduct against an employee, the head of agency is responsible for carrying out an initial risk assessment prior to the investigation of the allegation. The purpose of the risk assessment is to identify and minimise the risk:

- § to a child or children who are alleged to have been victims of the abuse;
- § to the employee against whom the allegation has been made;
- § to other children with whom the employee may have contact;
- § to the proper investigation of the allegation.

This may result, for example, in the employee being temporarily relieved of some duties, being required to avoid certain pupils or, in some special cases, being suspended from duty.

Any decision to take action as a result of a risk assessment is in no way an indication of the guilt of the employee concerned.

The factors which should be considered during the risk assessment include:

- § the nature of the allegation;
- § vulnerability of children;
- § nature of the position occupied by the employee;
- § the level of supervision of the employee;
- § disciplinary history of the employee;
- § safety of the employee;
- § any comments made by the employee.

Risk should be continually monitored throughout the investigation.

The Investigation

In conducting an investigation into allegations of reportable conduct, the head of agency should be guided by the following principles.

1. Conflict of Interest and Appointment of Investigator

All investigations must be conducted in an impartial, independent and objective manner and be open and transparent. The investigator must not show bias or favour to the alleged victim(s), the person the subject of the allegation, nor in outcomes which might affect the reputations of the particular agency.

In some instances the head of agency may call on an external expert to undertake the investigation. This may be the case where the agency determines that it does not have the expertise to satisfactorily conduct the investigation or in cases where a conflict of interest or bias may arise.

The mere perception of a conflict of interest by an accused person is not sufficient in itself to require the appointment of an external investigator. However, if there is a clear history of conflict between the proposed investigator and the employee it would be advisable for another investigator to be appointed.

2. Confidentiality

Heads of agency and persons conducting investigations should maintain a high level of confidentiality throughout the investigation phase. Action for defamation could result in situations in which agencies have published allegations of reportable conduct against an employee. The person making the allegation also has a right to protection, and if appropriate, confidentiality. In a limited number of circumstances it may be inappropriate to advise the accused person of the identity of the person making the allegation.

The employee should not discuss the allegations with students (including the alleged victim) nor with parents without the approval of the school.

Steps in the Investigative Process

A proper investigation usually requires that an employee against whom an allegation has been made, be told promptly the substance of the allegation and be given the right to reply to the allegation.

If DOCS or police are investigating the allegation, advice should be received from them about when to inform the employee about details of the allegation. Otherwise, the decision of when to inform the employee will depend on the protection of notifiers and witnesses, the quality of evidence to be obtained and the possibility of prejudicing the conduct of the investigation.

Where possible employees should be given advance notice of an interview with the head of agency or an appointed investigator, details of the allegation (sufficient to allow the employee to respond) and be advised that they may have a witness at the interview.

While it is desirable for an employee to be given reasonable notice before being required to respond to an allegation, what constitutes reasonable notice will depend on the circumstances of the situation.

Employees may wish to have someone support them during the interview process. The support person may be a friend on staff or the chapter representative. However, such a person is there for support only and as a witness to the proceedings, and not as an advocate or to take an active role in the proceedings.

A record should be kept of the meeting, this could be made by a tape recording, a full written record or short minutes. The form of record may be dependent on the seriousness of the allegation.

Listed below are fundamental steps in the investigative process. These may need to be varied on occasions to meet particular circumstances. The employer should normally:

- (a) clarify the allegation and determine that it is an allegation of reportable conduct;
- (b) make appropriate notifications to DoCS, police, Ombudsman;
- (c) carry out a risk assessment;
- (d) collect all available relevant information (ensure full documentation);
- (e) interview all relevant witnesses (ensure all interviews are adequately recorded);
- (f) make the employee fully aware of the allegations;
- (g) possibly give the employee access to relevant documents on which the employer is relying, unless such documentation needs to be kept confidential;
- (h) interview the person the subject of the allegations (ensure procedural fairness);
- (i) consider all the evidence and make a preliminary finding as to whether the allegation is sustained or not sustained.

Findings

At the conclusion of the investigation, the investigator will make a preliminary finding on the balance of probabilities that:

1. the allegation was false; or
2. the allegation was vexatious, that is, was made without substance and with the intent of being malicious or to cause distress to the person against whom the allegation was made; or
3. the allegation was misconceived, that is, whilst the allegation was made in good faith it was either without substance or a misunderstanding on behalf of the person making the allegation occurred or the incident would not reasonably be considered as reportable conduct (irrespective of the definition), sexual misconduct or an act of violence; or
4. the allegation was not sustained; or
5. the allegation was not one of reportable conduct, but might constitute a breach of professional behaviour or judgment which requires further professional disciplinary action; or
6. the allegation was sustained and the matter required disciplinary action.

A finding of 'not sustained' means that the investigator considers that there is insufficient evidence to determine that the alleged event occurred, on the balance of probabilities.

The employee should be told of the preliminary finding and given an opportunity to respond including, if they wish, in writing.

Disciplinary Proceedings

For the purpose of this recommended protocol disciplinary proceedings are defined as the action taken as a consequence of the findings arising out of the investigation. When conducting disciplinary proceedings the employer should have regard to procedural fairness. This will usually involve:

- giving the employee details of the final finding;
- informing the employee of the possible action the employer may take; and
- giving the employee a right to respond including, if they wish, in writing.

When the investigation has been completed

The employee is entitled to ask the Ombudsman to review the investigation and findings if the employee believes the investigation was unfair, biased, incomplete or suffered some other deficiency giving rise to an incorrect finding.

The employee must be advised if the employer has notified completed disciplinary proceedings to the Commission for Children and Young People.

If the completed disciplinary proceedings are notified to the Commission for Children and Young People, the employee is entitled to inspect the employer file in accordance with Freedom of Information Principles, subject to any exemptions which may apply under that Act.

Notification to the Commission for Children and Young People (CCYP)

The Commission for Children and Young People Act requires all completed investigations into allegations of reportable conduct to be reported to it. It is an offence under the Act to fail to report unless the allegation is found to be either:

- false (the alleged conduct did not occur);
- vexatious (without substance, malicious intent);
- misconceived (not reasonably be considered to be reportable conduct).

In the findings listed above only findings 4 and 6 need be reported to the CCYP.
